

MIXED REACTION TO CAIN'S BRIDGE PROPOSALS

Representative Fred Cain appeared before the Board of Selectmen Monday night, on the invitation of Chairman George Boylen, to tell of his work in getting money for new bridges in Wilmington.

The reactions of the Selectmen were mixed, ranging from an almost enthusiasm by George Boylen 'I'll buy any bridge for $40,000' to a real sceptical attitude on the part of Selectman Miceli.

Mrs Drew was a little sceptical, but pragmatic and James Banda was cautiously in favor.

All four Selectmen were slightly miffed at the idea that county and state engineers had been laying out the road plans - a prerogative of Selectmen, in any town.

And all four will be guests of Rep. Cain, a week from Monday, when he and they will visit the State House and/or County Court House, to go over the Wilmington Bridge Account.

Wilmington Bridges

Rep Cain has before told the Selectmen of the money he has had set aside for the construction of bridges over the Boston & Maine, in Wilmington, but this was the first time when the explanation was made at length to the entire board.

As a result of some of the earlier explanations Town Manager Morris had gone to the County Court House, to check into the account. He apparently had found out nothing - possibly from talking with the wrong individuals.

Cain told the Selectmen that he has had sums set aside, each year, in the County budget, for new bridges over the Boston & Maine, in Wilmington, and that there is now $190,000 in this account.

SYMPHONY IN CORN: Harold Foley of the Shamrock, and Ed Sweeney of the Commercial Bank and Trust were in perfect harmony at the annual Wilmington Rotary outing, last week, in Tynsboro.

Are Stone and Sand Building Materials?

It was almost like the 'Baby Beach' public hearings of the Board of Appeals, several years ago, in the Town Hall, Tuesday evening, as a total of 32 persons, not including town officials, were present for Board of Appeals hearings.

The hearings had to be moved upstairs, instead of being held in the customary hearing-room in the cellar.

The greatest interest was in the seventh and last hearing - that of the Quinn Brothers of Arlington, asking for a reversal on the ruling of the Building Inspector, relative to the storage of sand and gravel on a lot of land in back of Louie's Oil Company. Clark Street residents were present almost en masse, to attend the hearing, and the chairman, Dick Howlette, went to the unusual precautions of having a tape recorder to record the proceedings.

Attorney Simon Cutter appeared for the Quinn Brothers. He told the Board of Appeals that this was an appeal from a decision of the Building Inspector, and nothing else.

The Quinn Brothers, he said,

Harvey Has His Man

A young man is in the Billerica House of Correction, awaiting a trial which, at the present time, is scheduled for early October. That young man, Wilmington Police say, is the answer to a number of charges of larceny by check, dating back to October, 1966.

Inspector John Harvey of the Wilmington Police and State Police Lt. Irving flew to Camden, N.J. last week, to pick him up. He was returned to the jurisdiction of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts on August 8th.

The story starts back in October 1966.

A young man using the alias of John R. Rafter came to Wilmington and rented a home on Dell Drive. To the lady who rented the home he explained that his wife would be coming to Wilmington shortly, and that they were expecting a baby. He made enquiries as to the best doctor, hospital, etc.

His next step was to open two checking accounts in the two Wilmington banks which give that type of service. In each account he deposited $25.

Then, late on a Friday afternoon, Mr. Rafter went to work. He picked Friday afternoon because he knew that the checks he was about to write would not be cleared in the banks until the next Monday.

Rafter visited four of the larger department stores in the greater Boston area. In each of the stores he had the same routine.

He would choose a major appliance, such as a color TV set, costing about $1000. He would tell the salesman that he would like to think it over, and that he was going home. After he got home he would call in, if he wanted the set. If he did want it he would give the delivery man a check.

He then returned to his new home on Dell Drive, and got busy with the telephone.

Friday evening and Saturday, a string of delivery trucks beat a path to the Rafter door.

By Saturday night Rafter and all the appliances were gone. . . Two color TV sets, a washer, a dryer, a refrigerator, and a complete set of living room furniture. The total value was $3,687.00

Also gone was the two original deposits of $25, in the two local banks. Rafter had written checks for the amount, and had cashed

Nosey Nancy

Send your announcements to Nancy, Box 208, Wilmington, or call 657-7141, or after five, 658-4865. If I'm not there, I'll call you.

You're doing it, the bending and picking, I mean. Have caught several folks helping out, and I certainly appreciate it...Things are looking better! Now that North Wilmington parking space, if it only....

And you young folks, that are patronizing Big Joe's in the Square and Louis up at the Lake...the cans are for disposing of the papers... please get out of the cars, or off of your duffs long enough to amble over to the cans. Thanks, knew you could do it!

Speaking of Big Joe, he won his competitions in wrestling in Maine and we understand that he'll be at it again next week in Lowell and then back to Maine! So we'll be letting you know and you can cheer him on!

The Mancinis have opened the used to be Subway next to McNamara Tire and there is an ad in this paper where you can get 50¢ off any Pizza you buy on Friday night, August 16 or Saturday night, August 17. Let's use that coupon there folks, and let Mancini know you are glad he is here!

Mrs. Randall of 20 Fay Street called and somehow, someone has helped themselves to her CYO tickets to the tune of $15 which were mailed to her. Then, they proceeded to scotch tape the envelope and remail it, as I understand, so it must have been a kid...However, since she is entertaining, and four of those tickets were for guests, she won't ask any questions if they arrive in the mail to her...Mrs. Spence 20 Fay Street, Wilmington, or if you have any information as to the whereabouts of them, call her at 658-8757. Thanks!

Wowee! The street sweeper just went by going toward Rt 93. And it was going full blast!

This is a reminder that we have forms in the office for the reports on your weddings and receptions! Please drop in and get one, so that you will know what the write-ups should consist of!

The BOYS!!! Jimmy Van-Steenberg dropped in this morning with his leg in a cast and chatted a long while with me! He is home on thirty day leave, having bought a new Mustang and driven across 'The World' as he says with a big grin! He has been on the Ranger, and is assigned to the Independence, to be back on board September 5, three days before they pull into the French Riviera. Incidentally, Jimmy has signed up for another hitch of 6 years, planning to make the service his career from which he will retire at the ripe old age of 38 years. Nice going, Jimmy. Grand to see you, and don't forget to stop in and chat again before you leave!

Found out that Joe Gallagher of Muse Avenue in Wilmington, who graduated from Austin Prep in Reading in the Class of 1967 is now a cadet at West Point and doing real well...Let us hear from you, will you Joe, and tell us how it is down there!

Congratulations to Paul F. Farrell. He made Spec 4 this week at Fort Belvoir Virginia where he is continuing his training for eight weeks at the Army Engineers School. Paul belongs to Mr and Mrs Paul Farrell of the Massachusetts Avenue Farrells! We're sure proud, Paul. Keep up that good work!

Dick Ness also stopped in on his way to Boston to enjoy a little 'Girl-watching' while he is ashore. Dick is leaving Thursday for Norfolk to board the Presidential Cruiser The Northampton and he has promised to send us pictures!

Dick says that Danny Main of Miller Road has been home on leave and is going back to Newport News today. Danny, sorry that you were too shy to visit with us, or didn't we just connect. Be sure to write us where you will be with your new address!

Sergeant First Class Alvin E. Blaisdell, son of Mr and Mrs Frank L. Blaisdell, of Main St has re-enlisted for three years in the Regular Army. He has three awards of Combat Infantry man and Bronze Star Medals for his heroism and four Purple Heart awards.

The Crusaders and the Mills Knights had that softball game at the Town Park and hear that it Howled with success. The Mills corps was presented a trophy in jest as the winners.

Then there was the cookout! Everyone got stuffed! Then to the Town Beach for a swim. The lifeguards gave up after a while I guess for with 125 teeners to watch, everyone got dunked, clothes or not. Since it was cold, the beach was deserted by others and the kids had plenty of room!

These two corps have been competing on both the Eastern Mass and Mayflower Circuits and with their usual good sportsmanship, the Knights did present the Crusaders with a trophy expressing their friendship.

On the weekend of the 24th, the Crusaders and Swordsmen will cooperate with St Thomas Church to accommodate members of the Garfield Cadets from New Jersey for a few nights in their homes while they compete in the CYO National Drum and Bugle Corps Competition to be held in Lowell. The Saugust contest will be held on Friday, the 16th. Both the Swordsmen and Crusaders are entered.

Don't forget the Drums (Blitz) at the VFW Hall on Tuesday evenings starting at 8:00 pm. The corps need the money badly, so go on down and play a while, so they can have some help! Let's go...They all are doing great... and certainly are enthusiastic!

The Heritage Parade at Salem is moved up to Sunday, the 18th. The Crusaders will be marching in that.

Practice Schedules: Crusaders Drill and Color Guard - Monday 6:30 at West Intermediates. Drums & Bugles, 7:00 at Boutwell School. Swordsmen: Drums, Bugles, and Color Guard - 6:30 at Boutwell School on Thursday. The Drill members will be notified!

The Chief - TM Morris is back in Town brown and healthy after his military vacation? Hear that he had his head in 'the clouds'!

Did you know that the High School now has a Pep Club to Pep up the Football Team? This is a group of girls (all are members) who attend the football games and at instigation by the Cheerleaders, they sing out cheers for the team and school.

This year there is a teacher who is their advisor and many new good ideas. In order to have things ready for the first game, the girls would like to have a big rally meeting next Wednesday night, August 21, at the High School, at 7 pm to hash the whole thing out.

For the first time, they are including the Junior High girls of the 8th grade.

If you can't make the meeting because of vacation or work, call Elaine LeDuc at 658-3204 for more information.

There you are, Chicks. Keep next Wednesday night open, and hop down to the high school at 7:00 pm and lend your lungs to the Football Squad! Want to see a whole section of the stands filled with Wilmington pulchritude!

ATTA BOY, Chief! He has put me in my place. All afternoon Tuesday, the street sweeper ran up and down Middlesex Avenue in front of the joint while I was typing, setting this here column! And now - they are sweeping up a storm on the North Wilmington parking lot! Nice going there, boys!

Now, You All - get your car washed on Saturday, August 17 between 8 am and 6 pm in the high school parking lot, behind the tennis courts. You will be able to see them working from Church Street. Out there will be the High School Cheer Leaders who are doing this little job to raise money for Bench Warmers to wear with their uniforms at the cold football games.

The School Department buys the uniforms, since they are participating in a school activity under the Physical Education Department but somehow or other these kids are supposed to sit through three hours activities with only that little short uniform in snow, rain sleet or flood!

The gals say they freeze to death, and so they are taking it upon themselves to raise enough money to buy them.

There are twelve official cheerleaders, and at an approximate cost of $16.50 each, the gals will have to wash 188 cars at $1 pr car. SO....GET THAT VEHICLE DOWN THERE AND HELP THESE CHICKS RAISE THEIR DOUGH! (Knew you would! Thanks a bunch...And, Chief, they'll do a fine job on the Police Cruisers...and I wonder how much a fire engine is worth for a washup!)

Hey...Heard what 3 D is that is coming to town, and soon too! Can tell you all about it next week! You really will be delighted with it when it comes!

those checks.

Monday morning a TV service company was called by one of the stores. Would they please go to the Dell Drive address, and set up the color TV set?

Soon afterwards the same TV service company was called by another department store, to go to the same address, and service a color TV which that store had just sold.

The manager of the TV service company smelled a mouse. Why should a family buy two color TV sets, on one day? He came out to Wilmington, went to Dell Drive, and found an empty house.

No sign of Rafter - no sign of all the merchandise.

The actual larceny had taken place in Wilmington - so it was a case for the Wilmington police. Inspector John Harvey had another job on his hands.

There were no clues as to the identity of Rafter. The house on Dell Drive was clean as a whistle. There were no finger prints. The neighbors could recall nothing about the man, what kind of a car he drove, or the plates on it.

But other witnesses, the people he had seen in the stores, could and did give a physical description of Rafter.

And, several weeks of work on one of the bank signature cards, by a State Police finger print man, brought out one useable finger print.

The Wilmington police learned that Rafter had had the same type of operation in other places.

Quincy was looking for him. So were communities in Rhode Island and New Jersey.

Several weeks were spent in searching for a suspect in Rhode Island. When he was finally found he turned out to be someone else than Rafter.

Trips were made to many places to interview suspects. All turned Entertainment will include Nixon singing and playing the guitar. Come one and all. This should be a fun occasion as well as meaningful!

The Human Rights Committee will be meeting on August 21st that's Wednesday at 8 pm. It will be held at the home of John and Dorothy Reid on Lang Street which is off Federal Street!

out to be the wrong man.

Then, in January of 1967, came the first break.

Officer Charles Dolan, looking over the teletype messages that come into the Police Station all day and all night, noticed one from Bridgeport, Conn. which said that he met Inspector Harvey and Lt. Irving.

It had taken a long time, but the case is now marked 'solved' in the files of the Wilmington Police Department.

INSPECTOR JOHN HARVEY of the Wilmington Police Department three men had been arrested there on gun carrying charges.

Next day there was another message, saying that there was reason to believe that the three men had been involved in the larceny of furniture and household appliances. Dolan mentioned this to Inspector Harvey, and Harvey asked the police of Bridgeport for pictures of the three men.

The pictures were shown to the witnesses, and one of the men was identified as 'Rafter'.

Rafter, convicted in Bridgeport, served out a jail sentence. Then the police in other cities picked him up, when he was released. He was convicted of the same type of crime in other cities, and for the past twenty months has been 'paying his debt to society'.

On August 8th he was released from jail in Camden, N.J.

And, before he got to the door,

Bridge Proposals

(From Front Page)

The new bridge, proposed for Nichols Street, he said, would cost the town nothing - only the payment of land damages. This would not be over $40,000. The Commonwealth and the County will pay for the rest.

When Boylen heard this he remarked that he would buy bridges for only $40,000.

Mrs. Drew, in a polite way, wanted to understand more about the proposals. Miceli was openly hostile, but without saying why.

When Selectman James Banda started to make a motion, - presumably that the Selectmen study the proposals Miceli interrupted to call it a 'Foolish Motion'.

For thirty seconds or so the air in the Selectmen's Meeting room resounded to shouts, until Chairman Boylen got the meeting back to order.

The second bridge proposed by Rep. Cain, over the Boston & Maine near Wilmington Ford, got an almost as sceptical reception.

Selectman Boylen is of the opinion that it would be better to build a new bridge at Bridge Lane, instead of one half-way between Bridge Lane and the Shawsheen Avenue Bridge.

Cain said his proposal was to be in place of the two old bridges. The state now requires a height of 22 feet six inches, above the tracks, for any bridge, Cain said.

The only way to build such a bridge would be in the proposed site, according to what Cain told the Selectmen. State engineers, he said, had determined the site.

To build a new bridge at Bridge Lane would mean the construction of a 'Dead Man's Curve' at Shawsheen Avenue and Bridge Lane.

And, because of the height restrictions, Cain said, if new bridges were to be built at either Shawsheen Avenue or Burlington Avenue, the grade would be so steep that only a tractor could climb them.

The money in the Wilmington Bridges Account is there to be used, Cain said, and if it isn't used for the construction of new bridges in Wilmington it will revert to the state treasury.

The money does not necessarily have to be spent for Nichols Street or for Shawsheen Avenue - it can be spent for any bridge over the Boston and Maine Railroad, in Wilmington, according to Cain.

But he wanted the Selectmen to start action - before the money reverts to the state.

Other Business

The Board of Selectmen granted permission to Carl Davidson of Salem Street to purchase, for $800, a lot of town owned land abutting his home, with the usual restriction that no home be built on the land, but that it be added to his own house lot.

Mary A. McAndrew of 11 Williams Avenue had her name drawn to serve as a juror in the Civil Session of Cambridge Court, starting Sept. 9.

CAIN AND SELECTMEN: Discussing the Nichols Street bridge.

ing Sept. 9. Salvatore Matrano of 11 Marion Street was drawn to serve in the Criminal Session, starting on Sept. 23.

Election officers, to preside at elections in Wilmington were appointed, all being the same as before except that Mrs. Helen Casey of Redwood Terrace was appointed to serve as Deputy Clerk, in the place of Mrs. Eleanor O'Keefe, who did not want to be reappointed.

A hearing at 8:15 pm, for the New England Telephone Company to change pole locations at the corner of Federal Street and Middlesex Avenue found Mrs. James Gilligan telling the Selectmen that she wanted the shrubbery and lilacs on Federal Street left intact. The Selectmen tabled their vote, until the Telephone Company and Mrs. Gilligan have had an opportunity to talk things over.

Brandford O. Emerson, auctioneer, was given permission to conduct an auction of the household goods of the late Edwin H. Buck, at 46 Middlesex Avenue.

The board received an invitation to the Installation of Officers of Wilmington Post 136, American Legion, on Sept. 14th.

Notice was received that the State Department of Public Works and the County Commissioners will conduct their Annual Hearing on projects and highway improvements for 1969. Town Manager Morris and the Highway Superintendent are to attend for the Town of Wilmington.

There are no rats in Wilmington, it would seem. A letter from the State Department of Public Health informed the board that $100,000 was available for local rat control. The Town Sanitarian advised the Selectmen that there was no problem in Wilmington.

The Eastern Massachusetts Regional Planning Project asked that a member of the Board of Selectmen, or a representative, be appointed, for the planning of future transportation. Chairman George Boylen was named.

The County Commissioners have notified the Board that the petition for alteration of the Nichols Street Bridge has been approved. Morris asked the Selectmen for permission to have new appraisals of the land that will be taken for the project. Permission was granted.

Dog Officer Joe Balestrieri was given authority to pick up and destroy stray dogs, or take the owners to court. It was emphasized by the chairman that this had nothing to do with the 'Leash Law'.

Attorney Ernest Nigro of Wakefield, representing the Benevento Gravel interests, did not attend the meeting, as had been scheduled.

Atty Nigro wrote a letter saying there had not been time to have an analysis of the aerial photos of the Benevento gravel pit, which had been presented by Town Counsel Alan Altman, and asking that the Selectmen delay the hearing until the analysis had been completed.

A non-profit rehabilitation center for alcoholics is being started in South Tewksbury, with the name of a Wilmington man being on the list of incorporators. The name was sent to the Wilmington Chief of Police, for a customary check.

The land of the former Saint Thomas Church has now become the property of the Town of Wilmington. Town Counsel Alan Altman has presented the chairman of the Board of Selectmen with a Certificate of Title, from the Land Court. The town now owes the sum of $13,693.20 to Richard, Cardinal Cushing, of Boston.

The Selectmen signed deeds selling two lots of land on Cypress Street, sold under the town's Low Value law. Lot 130 went to Theresa Severan and Lot 131 to Alan Gray, with the usual restrictions as to house building.

Transfers

Two requests for transfers of money were approved and sent to the Finance Committee for action. TM Morris requested a transfer of $1000 for the Sick Leave fund of the Fire Department.

He also asked for a transfer of $35,000 to the Veterans Service account. The Selectmen were told that there had been an unexpected increase in the 'case loads' of Veterans Services, including medical bills for one Vietnam veteran, aid in rents for two veterans, now out on strike (telephone strike) and a case of AA assistance with a physician for another veteran.

An executive session, with the Building Inspector, lasted for half an hour.

A list of proposed new street lights, prepared by the Reading Light was discussed. Boylen, in the discussion, wanted better lights for Grove Avenue, and the discussion, for a while was on the merits of mercury-vapor and regular lights, and the difficulties of having the two kinds adjacent to each other. Boylen asked that when possible mercury-vapor lights be used, and the TM agreed.

Revah Brook

A letter from the State Department of Public Works, referring to the non-drainage of Revah Brook in East Wilmington, said that the DPW had no reason to believe that there was impediments to the flow of water, and pointed out that there was a swamp in the area anyway.

With some irony on the part of the Board of Selectmen, it was decided to list specific details for the DPW, with the assistance of the Town Engineer and the new aerial photographs of Wilmington.

New Business

Mrs. Drew had some comments on streets, but noted that the TM had already taken care of the problems.

Miceli wanted the Town Accountant to be invited to the next meeting, to discuss the monthly accountant's report.

Banda said he had had several people comment on the new gas station on Main Street, and wanted it clearly understood that no gas station permit had been issued this year.

(The Town Crier, last week, said it was 'about a year ago'. It should have said 'about two years ago'. Ed.)

Boylen complimented the Town Accountant and Mrs. Gately on the work in School Accounts.

Banda wanted to know if the town had received insurance money to cover the damage to desks, in the North School, with reference to the leaky roof of former years. He was told that there had been no insurance coverage of this type.

Boylen had two comments to make. The first was that there was a cave-in, on Adams Street, over a brook.

The second was an announcement that from now on the Town Manager would be asked to make his report first, before 'New Business' was taken up - this to reduce the amount of time taken listening to Selectmen talking about the minor troubles of the town which the TM may already have taken care of.

Morris complimented the board on the 1968 tax rate, and said that, out of 40 municipalities in a comparable situation to Wilmington's, Wilmington had the third lowest increase in taxes.

The average increase of tax rates, Morris said, in the 40 municipalities, was $7.50.

The board engaged in a general chuckle, ment.

GLUE SNIFFING CAN BE DEADLY, POLICE WARN

A recent call to the Wilmington Police Department involved a hut, located off Woburn Street, in back of one of the industrial buildings near the Woburn line.

Investigation showed that the hut had obviously been built by local boys. Found in the hut were several dozen rifle shells, from which the powder had been removed. Also found were a dozen empty tubes of glue.

Police are particularly anxious that parents realized that the use of glue, by youngsters, can be deadly. The odor of glue, in a confined area, gives a sensation of gratification, police say, and too many times, ends in death.

Punt, Kick, and Pass

WILMINGTON POST 136, A.L. had a Punt, Kick and Pass contest, last Saturday, for aspiring football players.

Winners in the 12 - 13 year old class were (L to R) Ray Noel, first place, Richard Coursey, second; and John Harrison, third. Behind the boys are Legionairs Raul Noel, Ralph Zwicker, Ray Noel and John Winters.

59 BOYS TOOK PART IN THE EVENT: Which is a part of the Physical Fitness program of the late President Kennedy. Shown are the winners of the 10 - 11 year old group, Kevin Nolan (left) first place; Tom Buckley, second; and Richard Sarris, third.

GEORGE SAPP: Was a bundle of nerves at first, but he soon got into the spirit of the competition. The 11 year old Roxbury boy is a visitor in Hathaway Acres.

OAK GALL: And Oak Leaf Miners, are worrying the residents of Dadant Drive, in North Wilmington. Their trees are very much infested with both types of insects, and they wish that the Tree Department would come around and spray.

Mrs Janet Dewire is shown examining a leaf from a white oak, covered with little galls, which may be expected to grow to big ones.

Cain's Map of the New Proposed Bridge

State Engineers have drawn this sketch, showing a bridge to be built over the Boston & Maine Inback of Wilmington Ford, and replacing both the Shawheen Avenue and Bridge Lane bridges. The bridge would go towards the Wilmington Plaza. Main Street would become a double-barrelled highway, from near Clark Street to Bridge Lane. Rep. Cain has told friends that he is worrying about the possible effect of the construction of a new gas station, on Main Street, at about the point where the new bridge road would meet Main Street.

business should be under 25% of the total volume.

A spokesman for the Wilmington Builders supply opposed the proposal, as did several of the residents of Clark Street. They were afraid of dust from the sand piles. Five Clark Street residents registered their opposition.

Danny Gillis, of the Wilmington Planning Board, asked the chairman for an opportunity to submit a written communication later. He talked of the possible impact of piles of sand in a residential neighborhood.

The Chairman told Gillis that the only question was whether or not sand and stone and gravel is a Building Material, and that was the question that the Board of Appeals had to answer.

Gillis then argued that under the statutes the Building Inspector is the one who decides, and Cutter said that his clients, as aggrieved parties, were appealing the ruling of the Building Inspector, which is also in the state statutes.

The case was taken under advisement by the Board of Appeals.

ATTORNEY SIMON CUTTER: Is surrounded by Clark Street residents, as he argues the 'sand and gravel' case in front of the Board of Appeals, Tuesday night.

To the far left is Jack Fitzgerald of Wilmington Builders Supply, and to far right is Danny Gillis, of the Wilmington Planning Board. On this side of the counter, Chairman Dick Howlett is at far left.

THE FIRST DOLLAR IN THE NEW STORE: Joseph Parella, of Ballardvale Street, who has been selling shoes on a House Call basis, opened up a new Shoe Store, in North Wilmington, beside Elia's, yesterday. He points with pride to the first dollar taken in. Mrs Parella is seated at left.

Controlling, curing, preventing and replacing doesn't represent all the problems facing the medical profession today.

While it is true that medical science has reached the point where it can save lives that have been reduced to the feeblest spark not everyone recovers in condition to re-enter normal social relationships or resume life's responsibilities.
